

Entrepreneurs create over 6 million new businesses each year in the United States, and yet only a fraction receive funding. We've set out to change that by creating a business crowdfunding platform that enables companies to raise capital from investors, customers, and friends. Here are the three things that have made Fundable the leading platform for business crowdfunding:

Hands-On Service

Our team takes a very hands-on approach to help companies understand the fundraising process and launch their funding campaigns. From profile creation to marketing, we're there at each step.